

English Task

This week Discovery, we are still focusing on our story of Harry and his Bucket full of Dinosaurs goes on Holiday. We would like you to draw a story map of the story. This is where you draw a picture to represent all the main events in the story and to under each picture, write a sentence to describe what's happening. You should end up with what we call a summary of what happens in this story.

Your second task is to choose a different landscape or setting and write a story about it. Last week you described an airport, this setting can be anything or anywhere you like. Try to think about what characters belong in your setting, what adjectives you might use to describe it and don't forget your full stops and capital letters. We can't wait to hear your wonderful stories when we get back to school!

Your final English task for this week is to create a story map for your very own Harry and his Bucket full of Dinosaurs adventure! What will Harry be doing in your story? Don't forget to describe the trouble the dinosaurs might get up to and what problem they might find themselves in. How do they then solve the problem?
