

Hi Everyone,

Right below is a website that is brilliant for story starters and ideas for work around English. Everyday they will post a new picture with activities below the picture. You can go back in time and find ones that interest you more.

<https://www.pobble365.com/>

Please have a go at as many as you can, try write us a story from one of the photos, answer questions on it or try up levelling some of the sentences already on the website.

Keep safe guys and smile!!
